

Artist: Unknown

18
July

From A Woman's Point of View:
How Internalised Misogyny Affects Relationships Between Women.

Margaret Atwood famously wrote that men are frightened that women will ridicule them but women are frightened that men will kill them!
(Handmaid's Tale)

This lecture will explore misogyny and how it is internalised by women through the mother/daughter relationship. It is then played out in how women relate to themselves, their bodies and to their relationships with each other. I shall develop this aspect by looking at women's friendships. I will also relate this to the misogyny inherent in our Group Analytic theory, and ask how it effects or challenges our practice.

STRUCTURE

Introduction
The Mother-Daughter Relationship
Small Group Discussion
Break
Friendship & Sexuality
Large Group Discussion
Check out

TIME

14:00 - 17:30 IST

COST

₹650

£10 (for anyone from outside India)

All proceeds will go towards supporting the development of Group Analysis India

Ms Sue Einhorn

BA (Hons), CQSW, Memb. IGA, UKCP Member
GANLondon

Sue has worked as a Literary Agent, a Detached Youth Worker, a Community Worker and a Senior Lecturer in Social Work. She has also worked clinically at the Women's Therapy Centre and at the Medical Foundation for the Care of Victims of Torture (MFVT). She is currently a Training Group Analyst for the IGA and has a private clinical practice. She convened the training of Group Analysts in St. Petersburg and currently supervises senior Group Analysts in Russia and Norway. She was Scientific Chair of GASI for 6 years. She lectures widely and writes occasionally. She is a member of GANLondon and of the Older Therapists Women Group.